

Home

Last Updated Tuesday, 22 April 2008

This site is dedicated to Pierre Valentin Marchesseau, the father of naturopathy, in France

The man who made a synthesis of all available knowledge in his period to create the orthodox naturopathy.

He was fascinated by what he called the wonderful human mechanism and the way of giving it the best conditions to maintain its correct operation.

He put all his energies in the service of naturopathy and its circulation, in France, then in Europe and finally in the World.

This site pays tribute to this man and his work.

Â